

ERIKS

Local service, national support

The safe choice: For Product, Service and knowhow

Your leading industrial maintenance service partner in the area

Bearings and Lubrication

Power Transmission

Fluid Power and Hose Technology

ERIKS Industrial Services is a multi-product specialist who provides round-the-clock parts supply and technical expertise.

And we're right here when you need us.

- Fast local support
- Industrial maintenance products from all the leading manufacturers
- Local technical support and know-how
- Repair and replace solutions under one roof
- More skills and resources than local specialists
- ERIKS impartial in-house application engineering expertise
- The support of a global organisation when required
- Certified to ISO9001 and ISO45001

Work smarter, not harder

Our extensive experience means we know how to ensure you get the most efficient and cost-effective product supply possible.

Whether it's saving time through increased product performance, or saving downtime through greater reliability and operational efficiency or a more streamlined supply chain, working closely with your local service centre can save you time and money each and every day.

Expert technical advice

Our in-house technical specialists, combined with our supply partner's technical teams, are on hand to offer product and application know-how of the highest level, whether you're choosing your product or looking for operational efficiencies.

Fresh from the factory

Fast turnover and careful stock management ensure the products we supply are always fresh from the factory. So they're in top condition and ready to operate at their optimum performance as soon as you receive them.

“ Let ERIKS help you reduce your Total Cost of Ownership ”

Adding value reducing TCO

Forward-looking businesses look beyond the price tag when they choose the products they buy. They realise that a cheaper product can cost more in the long-run when they factor in the costs of maintenance, repair, shorter service life, more frequent downtime, and loss of productivity.

Bringing together all aspects of product support from one trusted partner - ERIKS - can help you find efficiencies and cost reductions in your maintenance and operational activity.

Going beyond standard supply

However, when a standard solution is not the best option, we can offer alternatives from simple upgrades to customised everyday items and comprehensive re-engineering – to deliver a more cost-effective, more efficient, more reliable and longer-lasting product.

Full traceability

Our multi-branded comprehensive product offering includes all the leading names for an always-available consistent, timely service.

We offer full traceability of every product you buy, ensuring there's no possibility of purchasing counterfeit or sub-standard products.

Supporting your goals

Improving productivity, enhancing the reliability of your production, and avoiding unplanned maintenance are all goals of forward-looking businesses. Our technical insight and support, innovative engineering practices and products, and experienced team can help you achieve them.

ERIKS - The Safe Choice

Creating a ZERO ACCIDENT workplace to ensure everyone returns home safely is our priority. Safety is integral to ERIKS, both at our own facilities and when working on your site.

ERIKS Industrial Services
Head office: Seven Stars Road,
Oldbury, West Midlands, B69 4JR

Visit eriks.co.uk to find your local service centre

